

Good Morning,

I hope this email finds you safe and well.

Mindful that you may well be spending more time online to access remote learning tasks during this period of School closure, I am forwarding you several informative links to articles and advice that relate to e-Safety that I hope you will find useful. Similar links have today been emailed to your Parent/Carer too, so they are aware how to support you to remain safe and savvy online.

How can you deal with in-game bullying?

Dealing with in-game abuse can be extremely upsetting, distressing and draining. Liam Hackett from anti-bullying charity Ditch the Label gives advice on what your child should do if they are being subjected to in-game bullying.

What is - and isn't - legal online?

The digital world is so new that half the time we don't know what the rules are. In fact, there are plenty of laws governing what you can and can't do online. Here's our guide to what you should and shouldn't be doing online (legally, anyway).

Setting filters on Google

Google is often the first port of call for homework and curiosity of all kinds. Here's how to guard against adult content appearing in your children's Google searches.

Social media apps: setting safety and privacy settings

Here's how to set parental controls on apps such as Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

Beware fraud and scams during Covid-19 pandemic fraud

Criminals are using the Covid-19 pandemic to scam the public – don't become a victim.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if I can be of further assistance.

Kind regards
